

POST TEST FOR PBP MODULE 5

- 1) Children may elicit a negative emotional response from a practitioner during IM training by expressing which of the following:-
 - a) Demand more attention than others
 - b) a and d
 - c) Motivated
 - d) Oppositional

- 2) True or False:-

“The very children we find the most difficult to build relationships with are the ones who do not need positive relationships with adults the most...”

- 3) When working with children who present with challenging behaviors the following are common reactions:-
 - a) Feeling frustrated
 - b) Feeling discouraged
 - c) Questioning of professional skills
 - d) All of the above

- 4) What can be done during IM sessions to help build positive relationships with IM students:-
 - a) Allow students to help you during sessions
 - b) Provide task directed opportunities
 - c) a and b

d) None of the above

5) True or False:

“It is important to make sure students know how important they are to the IM process”